My website is about traveling in the west coast of the US, and the cities to visit. On the first page, I provided an overview of the west coast, and on the "Locations" page, I provided detailed investigates each city I plan to visit. Viewer can also submit their information to share a car with me on the "Contact Me" page.

In the project I used 3 extras: iframe to incorporate the YouTube video, and transitions on the introduction area on the first page, and finally forms on the "Contact Me" page.
